If you booked your trip through Chase TravelSM and now need to make changes, you are not alone. Many travelers in the U.S. frequently search for how to cancel or modify a flight booking with Chase TravelSM, especially when plans change unexpectedly.

This in-depth, Rank Math SEO optimized guide explains the entire process in a simple, step-by-step way. It also answers real user-style questions often discussed on platforms like Reddit and travel forums.

Introduction: Understanding Chase TravelSM Flight Changes

When you book flights using Chase TravelSM, your ticket is usually issued through third-party airlines. This means cancellation and modification rules depend on both Chase and the airline policy.

In most cases, you can:

- Cancel your flight
- Change travel dates
- Rebook flights
- Request refunds or travel credits

However, rules vary depending on fare type, airline, and timing.

What Is Chase TravelSM Flight Cancellation & Modification Policy?

The Chase TravelSM cancellation policy is based on airline fare rules. Here's how it generally works:

✓ 1. 24-Hour Free Cancellation Rule

Most airlines allow:

- Free cancellation within 24 hours of booking
- Full refund to original payment method

✓ 2. Refundable vs Non-Refundable Tickets

- Refundable tickets → Eligible for cash refund
- Non-refundable tickets → Usually converted to travel credit

✓ 3. Airline Policy Applies First

Even if you booked through Chase, the airline's rules override everything.

✓ 4. Chase Service Assistance

Chase Travel acts as a booking intermediary and helps process:

- Modifications
- Refund requests
- Rebooking support
